

What are you going to do when the slide comes for you? By Eric Knoff

Submitted by Eric Knoff on Mon, 01/31/2011 - 15:33

It's the best day ever! It has been snowing for three days straight- and now the sun is shining and the powder is perfect. You and your companions are in a secret location with not another rider around - your group couldn't be happier. But then...all of a sudden... you hear someone yell, "Avalanche!" You look up to see one of your friends high on the slope being swallowed by a wall of moving snow. What are you going to do?

MSA Article January.doc

Publication

MSA

Date of Publication

Saturday 1/22/11