"...the snowpack was talkative today. Tons of energetic rolling collapses that shook snow out of the trees 50 feet away, and shot powder up around aspens in a Colorado-esque way. Shooting cracks on low-angle test slopes, and isolated small natural slides on steeper, W-facing terrain." Photo: D. Pogge

Advisory Region
Southern Gallatin
Longitude
-110.96W

Latitude
45.04N
Avalanche Details: Cracking and small natural slides in S. Gallatin
Southern Gallatin, 2021-01-06