Warming snowpack @ lick creek

Date Fri, 11/25/2022 - 10:20 Activity Skiing

Surface boar forming in sunny spots at lower elevations

Pin wheels coming down on south facing road cuts

Backside skiing was already getting heavy just after 10, reasonably heavily trafficked since last storm, someone ski cut just below cornice with no movement.

Front side has a supportable sun crust under the last 4" storm

Region Northern Gallatin Location (from list) Lick Creek Observer Name Bill Schell
