

Large avalanche in Lionhead

Date

Fri, 03/01/2024 - 17:40

Activity

Snowmobiling

From a phone call:

A rider saw a large avalanche in one of the bowls around the corner of Lionhead avalanched. It likely occurred on Friday, March 1. There were holes dug in the snow indicating a buried person or sled. This is the same slope that killed a 19 year old from MN on December 28, 2006. They conducted a beacon search on the debris to make sure no one was buried.

Region

Lionhead Range

Location (from list)

Lionhead Ridge